Mechanicsburg, PA April 1, 2007 – Telkore, Inc., a full service data and telecommunications installation and maintenance company, announced today that it was selected as the Growth Company of the Year at the 15th Annual Technology Council of Central Pennsylvania Awards ceremony held recently in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

“Each year we have the opportunity to recognize the best of the best in technology in our region,” said Kelly Lewis, President of the Technology Council of Central Pennsylvania. “This year we received a record breaking 72 nominations, a genuine indication of the strength of technology in our region. Telkore exemplifies the type of company that we are fortunate to have here and the type of company we hope to keep here.”

The company must also demonstrate significant growth or potential growth in revenue, products and services and/or number of employees.

“This is a tremendous honor,” said Ric Wilson, President of Telkore, Inc. “It is a tribute to our hard working employees who sacrificed time with their families to help this company grow; it is their award, they’ve earned it.”

Each year the Technology Council presents awards for excellence in technology in the following categories: Technology Educator of the Year, Outstanding Leadership in Technology, Best Application of Technology, Growth Company of the Year, Technology Provider of the Year and Technology Company of the Year. This year’s awards ceremony was held at the Whitaker Center for Science and the Arts in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and was attended by over 500 regional business leaders.

“Our region, and the technology companies in it, is fortunate to have a true partner in the Technology Council,” added Mr. Wilson. “With their support, companies like Telkore have the chance to grow, hire more employees and put Central Pennsylvania on the map.”
